COLEMAN SITTING PRETTY

Coleman, farthest west mining centre in the Alberta end of the Crows' Nest Pass, faces the future with a new optimism following the unification of management of the two large mining units there. The new arrangement will mean considerably more work for miners and a steady prosperity for all lines of business, as the Coleman payroll will insure the camp good times. In a word, Coleman is "sitting pretty."

The acquiring of a substantial interest in Coleman mine properties by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada is significant, as it will insure an outlet for Coleman coke.

The following announcement of the Coleman mine arrangement was given out recently:

"At the meeting of the directors of McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co. Ltd., and International Coal & Coke Co., Ltd., held on March 28, 1935, at the head offices of the respective companies in Coleman, a policy of unified management of both companies was decided upon.

"In connection with the new arrangements, Mr. O. E. S. Whitehead, retired from the position of general manager of International Coal & Coke Co. Ltd., still severing about 28 years' association with the company.

"Mr. George Kellogg, general manager of the McGillivray company, assumes the general management of the International Coal Co., also retaining the general management of the McGillivray Co. Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada has recently acquired a substantial interest in both these companies and contracts for a steady supply of coal and coke from the mines are now in operation. These new arrangements and contracts should result in steadier employment of the miners and substantial economies in operation."—Ex.

"THE CRUCIFIXION"

Music lovers and church people generally will be glad to learn that the Bellevue United church choir is presenting "The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, at Bellevue on Good Friday evening in the church.

This work is one of the best loved oratorios for passion week, and a great favorite in the larger centres each year.

"The Crucifixion" is a powerful meditation on the sacred passion of the Redeemer, brought to us in beautiful thought and excellent music. It portrays in sequence the tragic events in the closing days of Jesus, beginning in the garden of Gethsemane, followed by the trial scene and condemnation. Then follows the processional to Calvary, where the choir renders the strongest chorus, "Pang Wide the Gates."

The mystery of the Divine humiliation involves equally interesting numbers, in the solo, "King Ever Glorious" and the anthem "God So Loved the World."

The closing portion presents the "appeal of the crucified" in the words, "It is nothing to you all ye that pass by."

Don't fail to hear this masterpiece by Sir John Stainer. Time, 8 o'clock in the United church. An offering will be taken up.

From the far northern point of Fort Fitzgerald to the southern border of the province, envelopes for the Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund have been sent from the headoffice of the campaign in Calgary to 96 Boy Scout Troops in different towns in Alberta.

Before Saturday, 13th, 22,250 homes will have been reached. Contact has also been made through the rural schools of the province. Readers of this paper are asked to enclose their contribution, no matter how small, seal the envelope which is addressed to Lady Beasborough, Ottawa, and mail. No stamps are required.

NOTE

Advertisers and correspondents will please note, that owing to Good Friday and Easter holidays, our paper must be off the press by Wednesday evening of next week.

We earnestly solicit their cooperation and ask them to have their copy in our hands not later than noon on Wednesday.

DICKEN-McNICOLAS

A quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, April 2nd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holburn, Medicine Hat, when Miss Dorothy McNicholas, of Kimberley, B.C., became the bride of Mr. John Dickson, also of Kimberley and formerly of Blairmore. Mr. and Mrs. Dickson will reside at Kimberley.

SCOTTISH MUSICAL PLAYERS

Returning to the Coleman community hall for a farewell visit prior to touring for other lands, the Scottish Musical Players will bid adieu to their many friends with the presentation of their greatest success, "A Highland Love Song," on Saturday night.

Since appearing last December, these famous actor-singers from over the seas have travelled far. Engagements were played in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and many of the smaller cities in southern California.

Now on their way east from a successful conquest of the Pacific coast, they will present this two-act comedy success, written by William T. Wilson, the clever comedian of the company. Its excellence lies in its musical simplicity, and the delightful informality in which a "Highland Love Song" is presented.

This is an offering which has received ovations and acclaim from both critics and public wherever it has been given. The quaint characters are aptly portrayed. Mary McMahon, Edith McGregor, Florence Reed, Ann Forsyth, William T. Wilson, T. McAllister Wallace, Gordon Douglas and Randolph Salmons will all be welcome back in new characters, songs and funny situations.

MRS. W. L. HAMILTON PASSES

There passed away in Victoria Hospital, Winnipeg, Man., on April 17th, 1934, Ella McNeill Hamilton, born in Cranbrook, Ont. in 1872. On June 13th, 1900, she was united in marriage to William Lamond Hamilton, who predeceased her in 1933, killed when his car turned over near Estevan, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Hamilton was a woman of strong faith and deep religious devotion. Her interest in the church was intensely loyal. She was one of those fine souls who have attained to Christian beauty and strength, and who greatly honor the Lord, whom they fervently love. She was a woman of large heart and splendid intellectual gifts.

As a devoted wife and mother her influence radiated out from her home, bringing happiness to all who came in contact with her.

Surviving are her five daughters and one son: Mrs. H. C. Crooks, Toronto, Ont.; Mrs. Dr. Sinclair, Mrs. G. McGregor, and Mrs. R. McMurray, Winnipeg, Man.; Miss Jessie and Douglas, of Crescent Mines, Bismarck, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton were formerly residents of Passburg, Alberta.

Mrs. Annie Smollik has been released from the Fort Saskatchewan jail, and will not be tried for the slaying of her husband, Alex. Smollik, at their Myraman, Alta., farm home on December 29th. John Skrut, hired man of the Smolliks, will hang on May 15th for the slaying.

LODGE CONFERENCE PASSES RESOLUTION

Scientific-social research will be done on various racial groups in Canada to determine their probable effect on the future of the country, economically, ethnically, biologically and culturally, in order to help determine the type of immigrant Canada should have if the recommendation of the L.O.D.E. provincial chapter is acted on. The resolution, which passed unanimously at the recent convention at Calgary, will ask the proper authorities that such a body be established.

The national chapter will be urged by the Alberta provincial chapter to continue for some time the ban on immigration until those at present living here become more fully assimilated. It was pointed out this ban does not apply to British people.

Little discussion was heard on the resolution that will petition the provincial government to introduce legislation leading towards the centralization of the management of the school sections of the province. The chapter felt that for the undesirable conditions in many Alberta school districts the school boards are either directly or indirectly responsible. In the case of the Blairmore schools being closed to observe the Russian revolution anniversary date, a letter from the department of education to the Blairmore board protesting such action was read at the meeting and deemed entirely satisfactory.

The order voted to co-operate with the Canadian club committee, and named Mrs. Marshall its representative on the committee.

The showing of the Hauptmann trial pictures in this province will be protested by the provincial chapter, following a recommendation made by Mrs. Ross Henderson at the conclusion of her report on films.

FOUNDER OF LUNDBROCK PASSES AT SPOKANE

Peter Lund, well known Lethbridge business man, and formerly prominent in the lumbering, mining and contracting business in the Crows' Nest Pass and southeastern British Columbia, died at Spokane on Saturday morning, following a lengthy illness. He is survived by Mrs. Lund and Betty, a daughter, and four children of a former marriage, and a brother, residing in Spokane; also three sisters.

A Queer Combination

Six Blind Musicians Will Play For Deaf Dancers

Six blind musicians in England can also thank the wireless for allowing them to form their own orchestra. By listening in to different broadcasts, they memorized various pieces by memory, being the only way in which they could learn the music, of course. Next month they are to play at a dance in Leeds Town Hall. The dancers will all be deaf mutes who have had to use their eyesight to learn the steps, not being able to hear their instructor. They are taught by watching the faces of couples who are normal. On the steps of it this queer combination of dancers and musicians may appear pathetic. But it is not rather triumphant—that handicaps are not insurmountable? The musicians will not see the dancers, the dancers will not hear the musicians... but the spirit is there!

YOUR HANDWRITING REVEALS YOUR CHARACTER!

By LAWRENCE HIBBERT (Grapho-Analyst)
(All Rights Reserved)

Mrs. L. R. writes as follows: "I am a widow with two children, and have been corresponding with a man from the West. He wishes to marry me, and although I have never seen him, his letters are so pleasant that I find myself drawn to him. He is married, but has not lived with his wife for some years, and offers to get a divorce if I accept his offer of marriage. I feel that I should remarry, because I am still young, but I naturally don't want to leave a substantial sum of money. Any help you care to give me will be welcome."

I am sorry that I cannot be over-optimistic in the matter of making a really favourable marriage with this man, Mrs. R. He is not generous—he is, as a matter of fact, of rather a narrow point of view; not really broadminded.

He is likely to get very irritable, if not bad-tempered, and whilst a lot of us have this little trait at times, allied as it is in this case with narrowness of mind, it shows that this man is not easy to live with.

He is rather changeable, too. He will be inconsistent, not at all stable, temperamental, but fickle in his moods. It would be difficult to understand him at times.

Another characteristic that stands out in this man's vanity. He expresses this in one of his letters to you when he remarks on the number of lady friends that he has had, and whilst he is endeavouring to convey a subtle compliment to you, in that he prefers you to all the others, this also shows conceit. And his handwriting backs this out very clearly.

I mentioned that he is not very generous. I would go further and say that he is economical and cautious to the point of parsimony.

As regards yourself, your writing shows that you have a rather emotional nature, you are quick to feel joys and sorrows, and possess a marked capacity for affection. Yours is essentially a nature that needs company. There is nothing of the cold or aloof type about you. You are a sentimental, loving, and kind lots of fun, and have a liking for being "on the go".

You are still young, and I certainly agree with you that marriage would be an excellent thing for you—provided that you get the right sort of partner. Your own happy choice has given you a standard that it may not be easy to parallel. But I have no doubt that the opportunity will again arise. In the meantime, I am sorry that I cannot advise you to accept the man whose writing you sent to me, without at least, taking an opportunity to check up my summing up of his character.

Would you like an analysis of your character? And have you any friends whose real natures you would like to know? Send specimens of the writing you wish to be analysed, stating birthdate in each case, and enclose 10c coin for each specimen. Send with 3c stamped address envelope, to: Lawrence Hibbert, Graphologist, care of Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave., Winnipeg, Man. Letters are confidential and replies will be sent as quickly as possible.

Would Make Gold Cheat

Polish Scientist With Secret Z-Ray Claims New Extraction Process

What would happen if Professor Dunikowsky, the Polish scientist, should prove his claim that by his secret Z-ray process he can extract from auriferous earth eight times more gold than is possible by the methods hitherto employed?

Authorities in Paris admit that it would mean the conversion of the precious metal into a base one, perhaps of no greater value than lead. But the same authorities ridicule such a possibility, despite the report of M. Bonn, expert in chemistry to the Paris courts. After testing Dunikowsky's apparatus at San Remo, Italy, he says it is unquestionable that it permits the extraction of much larger quantities of gold than any other known process.

Maitre Jean Charles Legrande, the Paris lawyer, stated that he intends to demand a retrial of the case in which the Paris court sentenced Dunikowsky to two years' imprisonment for fraud.

APRICOT AND PINEAPPLE DELIGHT

½ cup dried apricots
3 cups apricot juice and water
½ cup quick-cooking tapioca
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ teaspoon salt
2 slices canned pineapple finely cut

½ cup pineapple juice
½ tablespoon lemon juice

Cut apricots in half, cover with water and soak 2 hours. Cover, and simmer 15 minutes, or until tender. Drain, measure liquid and add enough water to make 3 cups. Combine with apricots and remaining ingredients in greased baking dish, mixing thoroughly. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until done, stirring every 10 minutes, and again when removing from oven. Serve with cream. Serves eight.

LIMA SALAD

1 cup cooked, dried Limas
2 tablespoons minced onion
½ cup diced, cooked beets
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
½ cup French dressing
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Mix ingredients and chill before serving. Arrange on lettuce.

Why He Was Excited

British Tommy Dropped Ham Sandwich Into Ballot Box

A friend of mine who was playing an official part in the management of the Saar plebiscite tells me of one incident which every student of international government will wish preserved. British soldiers were carrying the carefully sealed ballot boxes into the room where the counting was to be done.

At one of the tables a Dutchman was heard in voluble dispute with a British Tommy. The Dutchman, who talked English, was perplexed and annoyed because he could not understand a word the Tommy said. My friend went to the rescue, but was quite unable to act as interpreter. The Tommy's Yorkshire was too broad.

A sergeant who knew him was called in to help. He explained that Yorkshire was sometimes like that when talked by men who were drunk or excited. It turned out that the Tommy had quite good reason for being excited. He had dropped his ham sandwich into the ballot box.

To retrieve the sandwich meant specially opening the ballot box before the proper witnesses and with due formalities. When various protocols had been filled up and the proper officials had signed the necessary documents, the box was solemnly opened, the sandwich retrieved, and an international incident closed in perfect amity.—New Statesman and Nation.

CHRIST THE SAVIOUR

Golden Text: For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life. John 3:16.

Devotional reading: Isaiah 53:4-9.

Explanations And Comments

God's Purpose in Sending His Son, John 3:16, 17. The Jewish idea was that God would come to judge the world of the Gentiles in the sense of condemning it, while salvation would be granted to one race alone, the Jews.

The statement now is made that God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life. John 3:16 is probably the best loved of all the verses in the Bible.

Japan has called it "The Fujiyama text of the Bible," meaning that it is the great background of all other truths of the Bible, even as the beautiful mountain of Fuji is in the background of nearly all Japanese pictures.

"What is the heaviest word in the language?" Mr. Spurgeon once asked, and no one could answer. "The word so in John 3:16," he then said. "Try to weigh that word, if you can."

"The statement was not the cause of God's love—His love was the cause of the atonement" (John McDowell).

Christ Died for Sinners, Romans 5:6-10. For while we were yet morally weak, and in need of grace, Christ died for sinners.

For scarcely will one die for a just (righteous) man; though possibly for the more lovable good man one would even dare to die. But God far surpasses this utmost manifestation of human love, and shows the excellence of his own love toward us by the death of Christ for us while we were yet sinners.

"God loved the world. He saw that we might be saved."

Made for Himself. He stooped to set us free.

And did not spare the cost of Calvary. God loved man so. Do we?"

(Grace E. Uhlir).

"If such grace was shown us, then, when we were in sin, much more, justified as we have now been by His blood, shall we be saved through Him from the wrath to come. As sinners we lay under the condemnation of God, and His wrath hung over us. This was the situation which had to be faced: was their love in God equal to it? Yes, when we were sinners we were reconciled to God by the death of His Son; much more, then, shall the love which wrought so incredibly for us in our extremity carry out our salvation to the end. The Living God, in virtue of his love, will save us to the uttermost" (James Denby).

New Machine Perfected

Can Determine Centre Of Gravity Of Human Body

A machine which can determine the centre of gravity of the human body has been designed and built in New South Wales at the Melbourne University.

The machine was described and demonstrated before the physiological section of the Science Congress in Melbourne by Prof. Osborne and Mr. A. H. Paul, who perfected it.

Heavily, it is so sensitive that a weight of one-third of an ounce placed one foot from its centre will disturb the balance. Disturbance of the centre of gravity in certain diseases may be determined by the machine.

Pure water is densest and heaviest at 4 degrees Centigrade.

Little Journeys In Science

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Gasoline consists of a mixture of liquid compounds known as hydrocarbons. The use of gasoline as a source of power in engines is due to the fact that the gasoline is easily changed to a vapour and that a mixture of gasoline vapour and air is led into the cylinder of the engine where it is ignited by an electric spark.

The "ethyl gasoline" which is now used so widely, is gasoline to which has been added a small amount of two colorless liquid compounds known as lead tetraethyl and ethylene bromide. The lead tetraethyl prevents the "knocking" of the engine when the engine is under high pressure; the reason for this is as yet not known with certainty. The use of ethylene bromide is added, the lead combines with the bromine which is present in the bromide, producing the volatile lead bromide which escapes in the exhaust.

In former days kerosene was the most important product obtained from crude oil. To-day, however, gasoline is by far the most valuable of these products and hence science has put forth every effort to increase the yield. This is done by distilling kerosene and similar oils at high temperatures under pressure. This process is known as the "cracking" of oils. The average crude oil from the large producing areas of Texas and Oklahoma contains about 30% gasoline. Modern improvements in the cracking process have enabled oil refiners to increase the gasoline yield to 70% of the crude oil or higher, depending on the quality of the gasoline which is desired.

Recent experiments have shown that the gas hydrogen under high pressure changes powdered coal suspended in it into lubricating oil, gasoline, and similar products. When the supply of petroleum becomes exhausted this process may supply man with these products so necessary to our modern civilization.

The Chinese market is beginning to absorb immense quantities of old worn-out automobile tires bought up in the United States market. One steamer recently took 100 pressed bundles of old tires, averaging 20 to each bundle to Shanghai. These are largely used as soles for sandals worn by coolies and peasants.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now returns to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore.

Dustin unexpectedly comes along while Stone and Edith are riding fence, and seeing them, stops and talks to Edith. He mentions their dispute could be settled by marrying him, and Edith refuses his proposal with remarks that make Dustin furious. He instantly Stone, who promptly throws him into a pool of water.

Dustin learns that Gerald Keene has been sent for, and that Dad Kane has seen the Broken Spur men rustling "Kane's cattle." He sets out with Dad Kane to find the location of his gold discovery. Dad Kane shows Dustin the mine.

They go back to camp, and Dustin shoots Kane. He fixes the shooting on Peyotl Gregg, a drug addict, who, stupified by the narcotic he had taken, did not know whether he was guilty or not. They bury Kane and then return to the Broken Spur ranch.

Meanwhile at the Hour Glass, Carr, Crewe and Stone speculate as to the meaning of entries in the notebook belonging to Dad Kane that Stone had found. Stone thinks of a possible solution, and, accompanied by Edith Carr, rides out to Red Water to test out his theory, which proves correct, and they find the rich gold deposit mentioned in the prospector's notebook. As they return to the ranch, they meet Dustin leaving the house, who purposely, but unsuccessfully tries to ride down Stone.

San Dustin, the day before Gerald Keene's arrival in Seco, cunningly suggests to Peyotl Gregg that Keene or Kane was a relative of the old prospector, and was seeking information as to the old man's whereabouts. If Peyotl wanted to live, and prevent finding out about the murder, Gregg should shoot Keene when he arrived.

(Now Go On With The Story)

Even Dustin grinned at the thought of the old ranchman, once the "Nestor of Seco Valley," being searched for a gun in a murder case.

Garcy was laughing frankly as he thrust a big hand into the side-pocket of Joe Carr's coat. But that grin suddenly froze on his face as he drew from the pocket a wadded mass of green-and-yellow silk. He seized it by one dirty corner and shook it out and all the watchers started back as a short heavy Derringer pistol clattered to the floor.

"Garcy's eyes bulged and Crewe's face changed. Carr, grown suddenly old and grave, stared at the pistol as Garcy reached for it but Stone was too quick for him. He quickly retrieved the weapon and examined it carefully and a silence fell that Dustin broke.

"I reckon this clears me of all suspicion," he smiled. "When the Hour-Glass gets to shootin' their own partners they're droppin' pretty damned low."

Garcy turned sharply on him: "You're cleared, Dustin," he said. "But 'I'm givin' you a word of advice. Say nothin' of this here till I tell you. If any word gets out, I'll know you told it. He'll have me to reckon with. Get me?"

Dustin looked at him quizzically and a chilly feeling ran up his back. He did not fear many men but he had a most healthy regard for old Jim Garcy.

"Good Lord," he snapped: "I'm not interested in Hour-Glass killings."

"I'm concerned," he said at last. "I just got to get back to the Hour-Glass. Look out for young Keene and old Joe, will you, Stone?"

Stone promised and Crewe started the car down the street. The moment darkness hid the car, Stone hunted up Epps and almost by force dragged him into his office.

Neither man ever told what took place in that office but in a half-hour Stone emerged triumphant and headed down the street for the little office where Jameson held forth. That gentleman, bending over a form-case, was snatched to a stool and an evil-smelling mass of green-and-yellow silk was thrust under his nose.

"What that smell like?" demanded Stone sharply.

"Jameson, who had been writing a hasty account of the shooting, sniffed and spat.

"Peyotl," he said. "Why?"

"That's what struck me," said Stone. "Can you possibly be mistaken?"

"Good Lord, no. It's Peyotl all right. Where'd you get it?"

"Ever see any one wearing a thing like that?"

"I never did. . . . Look here, Stone. . . . what're you driving at?"

Stone told him in well-chosen words and few and Jameson took fire at the recital.

"It looks to me as though you've got a solid morsel to chew on," he said, finally. "I only know one man who can be said to regularly use that infernal stuff. That's the man Peyotl Gregg out at the Broken Spur. I'll see I can find him. That'll probably shoot you if you went out there. See me first thing in the mornin'. I may have news for you."

CHAPTER XVI.

Sam Dustin headed for the Broken Spur half drunk with liquor and sweat. Even in his most hopeful moments he could never have hoped that Peyotl Gregg, having killed Gerald Keene, would place the blame for that killing on Joe Carr. Joe, of all men!

"The only man who could have had a motive," he chuckled. "If Keene dies, Carr gets his half of the Hour-Glass. I'll take it away from Carr and have the ranch and the mine too."

"And the girl. . . . Wait!" A sudden illuminating thought came to him and he snatched his leg hard. "By God," he said. "I've got it and I've got the girl. . . . But it's pretty hard on Peyotl. First of all I've got to find out if the man Keene will die."

He hung out of the car and almost leaped into the house. Spike Goddard was flung aside roughly as Dustin jerked the telephone from his hook.

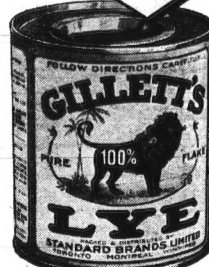

"What're you callin' Doc Epps for?" demanded Spike.

Dustin waved him into silence and Epps voice came loudly to his ears. "Oh, Goddard could hear it plainly. Huh? Yes. . . . This is Doctor Epps. . . . What? . . . Oh. . . . I get you. . . . Yeah. . . . I know you mean. I brought him over to my house. . . . Gerald Keene, of course. . . . The partner of old man Carr at the Hour-Glass. . . . You are interested, huh? Well, I'll tell you, Dustin. He died not ten minutes ago. . . . Epps' voice sounded strained and uncertain but there was no mistaking the words. "The coroner'll be in to-morrow. It looks like a help-neck-tie for old man Carr."

Spike Goddard heard it all and

Little Helps For This Week

Be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises. Hebrews 6:12.

Where now with pain thou treadest, trod The whitest of the saints of God: To show thee where their feet were set The light which led them shineth yet.

Let us learn from the communion of saints to live in hope. Those who are now at rest were once like ourselves. They were weak, faulty, sinful; they had their burdens and hindrances, their weariness, their failures and falls. But now they have overcome. Their life was once homely and commonplace as ours, and morning, noon and night went to them as to little trifles.

Great Attractions. Frequent disturbing changes wasted away their hours as yours. There is nothing in your life that was not in theirs, there was nothing in theirs that may not be in yours. They have overcome each one, and one by one, each in his turn when the day came, and God called him to the trial. And so shall you likewise. H. E. Manning.

Drawing Large Crowds

Moscow's De Luxe Food Store Proves

Sixty thousand visitors are passing daily through Elisev's mammoth de luxe food store at Moscow which was opened recently by Gastronomie, the state food trust. Delicacies of all sorts are offered for paper rubles in this gigantic establishment.

It occupies the same building once used in Czaristic days for a similar food shop. It is a greater attraction to the general public than any theatrical or motion-picture opening, and is crowded until it closes at midnight.

Moscowmen keep the throngs moving so they have no time to loiter in the street may have a chance to inspect the food display. Seventy-five types of bread are advertised by Elisev's, and the room containing the bread is probably the most crowded in the store. Cooked food also is offered, a new feature for food shops in Bolshevik Russia.

Bombay To Mark Jubilee

Services Will Be Held In All Places Of Worship

The celebration in Bombay of the King's Silver Jubilee are to last nearly two weeks, during which time all public buildings will be floodlit or otherwise illuminated. There will be combined military and naval displays on the lines of Navy Week in England. Other attractions will include fireworks displays, Scout parades, sports meetings, the distribution of aims to the poor and sweets to the children.

A thanksgiving service will be held at St. Thomas's Cathedral, at which the Governor of Bombay, Lord Strathmore, will be present. Similar services are to be held by Roman Catholics in their cathedral, by Hindus, Mohammedans, Parsees and other communities in their respective places of worship.

An autogyro without wings that makes a vertical landing recently was demonstrated.

When Is Middle Age?

English Judge Thinks It Might Be Around Sixty

What is middle age? The question was asked by Lord Howart, the Lord Chief Justice, at the Sussex Assizes when the counsel in a case before the court referred to a certain man as "middle-aged."

"Can you tell me what is middle age?" His Lordship asked. "Isn't it always a little further on than the man who is speaking has got?" He asked the age of the man in question.

"Forty-one," replied counsel. "A mere child," retorted the Lord Chief Justice, who himself is 65. "Don't call him middle-aged for another 20 years."

THE NEWSBOY

He cries his papers briskly
Each day and all the day:
I wonder how the newsboy
Can always keep so gay?

"It's 'Here's your morning paper!'"
And: "Read the news!" at noon,
And: "Get the last edition!"
Back to a merry tune.

The newsboy never grumbles
At wind or rain or sleet,
For he can bring some sunshine
Along the bleakest street.

His youth, his cheer, his courage
Would make old Midas glad
To trade his gold for boyhood
And join the happy lad.

It's: "Extra! Extra! Extra!"
He knows life, bad and good:
But every face grows brighter
To meet his merry mood.

CANADIAN PACIFIC ANNOUNCE BARGAIN FARES TO COAST

Bargain fares to the Pacific Coast which were offered the public last spring proved so popular the Canadian Pacific will repeat them this spring, it was announced by Mr. G. A. Passmore, local ticket agent.

Tickets will be on sale April 13th to 20th inclusive, with 21 days return limit, and will permit stop-over at Banff, Nelson and stations west. A feature of these fares will be the privilege of tourist or standard sleepers at slightly higher rate and usual berth charge. The special cent-a-mile fare, good in coaches, will also be available.

Springtime is a particularly delightful season on the coast and indications are many will avail themselves of the low fares and make the trip at this season.

A Swedish farmer, who wanted to make his permanent home in this country, appeared for his naturalization papers.

"Are you satisfied with the general conditions in this country, Mr. Olson?" asked the judge.

"Yah, sure," answered Olson.

"And, does this government of ours suit you?"

"Well, yah, mostly," stammered the Swede, "only I lik to see more rain."

No one but a qualified traveller on a journey is allowed to carry firearms in localities in Newfoundland, in which ptarmigan, wild geese, curlew, plover, snipe, hares or rabbits are known to frequent during the closed season.

Bill Knight told a Calgary audience about a "murder" having been committed in the Crows' Nest Pass. Maybe somebody should be hung for that, but there's nobody else knows anything about it. Of course we all realize how bitterly Bill is opposed to crime.

Under the heading "Other Railways," the March issue of the Canadian National Railways Magazine describes the world's slowest train, the "tea and sugar special," which operates from Port Augusta, Australia, to Kalgoolie and way points. The train takes a week to travel the 1,051 miles, and another week for the return trip. It sometimes carries passengers. One guy remarked that "snails whizz past it."

The contingent of Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Brownies, etc., to entrain from this district on Easter Monday by special train for the Calgary Jubilee, will be greatly augmented by a large force from Cranbrook, who will arrive at Coleman or Blairmore either by train or car on Sunday, the 21st. Prospects are that this district will have the largest representation per capita of population of any part of Alberta to greet Lord and Lady Baden-Powell.

A meeting, called by the United Workers' Council, of delegates to enquire into the position of single men in department of militia and defence relief camps, at Calgary last week end, passed resolutions demanding the abolition of relief camps, establishment of a programme of useful works, and certain stipulations as to administration of camps during the period of the change sought. They demanded the right to collective bargaining, right of appeal from foremen to a civil tribunal, taking of camps from military control, compensation for injury, provision for first aid and medical facilities, etc.

On April the 8th, copies of a biography of William Lyon Mackenzie King appeared on the bookstands in Ontario and Quebec, and since then have reached bookstores in parts of Western Canada. This biography of the Liberal leader has been written by Norman Macleod Rogers, professor of political science and history, Queen's University, and it bears a close relation to that fine book written about Mackenzie King when he was premier of Canada by Senator John Lewis. The book is not political propaganda; it is, rather, a sketch of the public career of Mackenzie King, a career which is unique in Canada, for it began when he was in his twenties, when he became the first deputy-minister of the department of labor. The concluding chapters of the book contain an explicit statement of the Liberal policy, and this alone makes it of outstanding importance.

Bright Stories about Wine

NATIONALISM IN WINES

● We think we have made it clear in earlier articles that varieties of wine have originated in different countries because of differences of soil and climate, and also differences in the ancient art of the vintner. Canada cannot produce vintage champagne for the simple reason that Canada is not France, but Canada can and does produce her special wines that France cannot produce. We remember a great many years ago when we had our first drink of wine and it was called native wine. At the time we did not understand the significance of the term. We thought it meant only that it was cheap wine. More properly it should have been called Canadian wine, because the reference was to its Canadian nativity.

● The culture of the grape would be further advanced in this country if the first vintyardists had been content to develop the native vine, the vitis labrusca. But Indians were not wine drinkers and knew little about grapes. Our ancestors, who knew about them, insisted on trying to grow in Canada, or we might say on the North American continent, the historic grape of Europe which provides, in its varieties, all the famous wines of that continent. We speak of the vitis vinifera. So the early cultivators struggled to transplant this vine and failed unanimously. The truth is it was not native. It was subject to mildew, rot and other diseases, while the hardier labrusca, in the course of some thousands or millions of years, had developed its own protection against them. It had proved its fitness for survival, and that is the grape from which nearly all our Bright wine is made.

The Lethbridge Herald remarks: It would seem that Tim Buck, the Communist, was not far wrong when in addressing an audience in Lethbridge he said that Alberta was the most Fascist province in the Dominion. The attempt on the part of the U.F.A. government to gag the press would seem to justify the statement.

We wonder what would happen if such men as H. H. Stevens, Gerry McGeer, Mitchell Hepburn, our own G. G. Coote, and a few other outstanding Canadians we might name, were to take hold of Canadian affairs.

THE PARLIAMENTARY SHOW

(By J. S. Cowper)

Each day the split between the government and the Aberhart Social Credit group widens. Accusations of bad faith are now made.

Major C. H. Douglas at first was announced to get $5,000 to come in May and act as adviser on Social Credit to the government—which is going to the elections in May or June.
Later it was admitted he has a contract that will see him $25,000. Now it turns out he has a contract that calls for $15,000 in all. Whether it will be increased during the week remains to be seen.

With Hon. G. N. Johnson and Mr.
J. E. Brownlee attacking the Aberhart plan before service clubs and on the radio, and other government supporters attacking it derisively in the Legislature, Mr. Aberhart is urged by his supporters not to accept the invitation of Premier Reid to work out a Social Credit plan for the government. They accuse the government of acting in bad faith. A resolution passed at the general convention of Social Credit groups charges the government with duplicity, saying the invitation to Mr. Aberhart "at this time savors of manoeuvring for political advantage."

During the past week Premier Reid announced that the government will not interfere with the present electoral boundaries and has no thought of redistribution at this session. The Premier said that Hon. George Hoadley was talking for himself and not for the government in a recent speech in the House when he advocated cutting down the Legislature to twenty members selected at large.

W. R. Howson, Liberal leader, who is hospitable to Social Credit exor-ated the government for its backing and filling on the question. He charged that Major Douglas is being brought to the province for purely political reasons, to create a division before election time.

"The Liberals were the only party in the House that came out flat-footed in favor of bringing Major Douglas here," declared W. Harry Ross, Liberal of Calgary, in asserting that the Liberal party is anxious to find out the merits of Social Credit with a view to applying them to the province.

Speaking to a resolution moved by Peter A. Miskew, Liberal, Victoria and Frank R. Falconer, Liberal, Athabasca, which approves the engagement of Major Douglas, while deploring that the government had not followed his previous advice, and is now calling him in at a time when nothing he can advise can be submitted to the electorate, Mr. Howson defended Social Credit from Attorney-General

Lymburn's implication that it is a "crack-brained scheme." He assailed the attorney-general for not having used his staff to find out to what extent Social Credit is applicable under the provincial constitution, and what changes in the constitution may be necessary to make it fully applicable.

Peter Miskew suggested that the reason Major Douglas insists on payment of his fee in advance is that he is aware of the precarious hold the Reid government has on office. Among those who came out flatly against Social Credit were Hugh C. Farthing,
Conservative, Calgary; O. L. McPherson,
U.F.A., Little Bow, and A. M.
Matheson, U.F.A., Vegreville.

Another hectic fight in the Legislature was over the effort of the Liberals, headed by W. R. Howson, K.C., to prevent the gasoline tax from being raised.

Said Mr. Howson, "If the government had taken steps to decrease the cost of gasoline, I would not object to the tax being raised. But in this province we raise more gasoline than we can possibly use, and have a large surplus to export. Yet in spite of that we pay as high or higher than any other part of the Dominion. We ought to be able to buy gasoline for less than those to whom it is shipped outside the province."

L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, demanded a full investigation into the oil industry and John J. Bowlen, Liberal, Calgary, called on the government to fulfill its disregarded promise to give the municipalities a share of the gas tax. Hugh J. Montgomery, Liberal, Wetaskiwin, protested against the government collecting increased gas taxes before the bill sanctioning the increase had passed the House.

Premier Reid, Hon. Russel Love and a strong contingent of U.F.A. members fought strenuously to have the gasoline tax raised. By a vote of 22 to 13 they succeeded.

Another fight the Liberals staged came when Mr. Howson moved that

Canada's Greatest Problem

The Canadian people are confronted with a gigantic problem. We say the Canadian people advisedly because, while governments, Federal, Provincial and Municipal are all struggling with it, the problem is one towards the solution of which individual citizens must make their contribution. The fact that it is a problem facing all other nations offers no consolation because the more acute and difficult it is in other lands only serves to make it more difficult in Canada.

The problem can be stated in two or three words—unemployment and relief.

The unemployed man or woman wants work and the wages which work will bring to them. Failing work and wages, they must be provided by Governments with the necessities of life—food, clothing, fuel and shelter.

Such necessities can, of course, only be provided by the State through the taxation of those other men and women who are employed, or still have some savings accumulated throughout the years of the past in order to make provision for their own future and old age. The only other way for Governments to borrow money and add such borrowings to their public debts upon which interest must be paid through increased taxation, and the principal sum of which is passed on as a liability for future generations to meet.

So far as municipalities, with their small and limited sources of revenue, are concerned, many have reached the limit of what their taxpayers are able to pay in order to care for those who are unemployed. Further taxation simply means that more people will be unable to pay it, and, failing to do so, will lose what they still have and will, in turn, be forced "on relief". Faced with this situation, a largely attended conference of the mayors of the leading cities and towns of Canada unanimously declared the inability of the municipalities to any longer carry their share of the relief burden and called upon the Federal Government to assume it in its entirety.

On their part, the Provinces—and more particularly the Western Provinces, which, in addition to the general and world-wide economic depression, have suffered more severely than other portions of the Dominion because of successive years of crop failures owing to the unprecedented drought conditions which have prevailed—now find it impossible to raise, either by taxation or borrowings, the Provincial share of relief expenditures and at the same time assume their share of the municipalities.

It must be recognized, therefore—the truth cannot be ignored—that the problem is a national one, and one that most intimately concerns every Canadian citizen and every Canadian interest. This must now be accepted as a fact even though under the constitution of this country the responsibility of making provision for people in need is primarily a municipal responsibility. That is, the actual facts of the situation override all constitutional aspects.

Then, there is the other side of the picture. Tens of thousands of people who are "on relief" complain that the amounts allotted to them are inadequate to their needs and desires. They are insistent in their demands that relief allowances be substantially increased. They are organizing to enforce their demands, and all over the country communitarian agitators are playing upon their distress and worries and arousing them to make demands which it is manifestly impossible for the remainder of the people to satisfy.

These agitators all loudly object to people on relief being asked to render any service whatever in return for the payments being regularly made to them. They insist that no person should be called upon by the municipality in which they reside to perform any work in return for the assistance extended to them. They refuse to recognize that, in effect, people are being paid what is tantamount to wages in advance, small though they may be, by their other fellow citizens, and they declare that to ask relief recipients to render any service in return for such assistance is to make "slaves" of them.

Yet Canadians worthy of the name, and knowing their country's difficulties, should be grateful for what is being done in their behalf, and if there is any manhood left in them they should not only be ready and willing, but actually anxious, to make what return they can to their fellow citizens and their country. These agitators demand work—not for themselves but for those they would make the dupes—and whose work in the usually accepted meaning cannot be provided but State assistance is extended, they then advocate refusal to work in exchange for such assistance, or even for a small fraction of it. Why? Because they are out to destroy the very institutions of government and the very people who are now providing the unemployed with the necessities of life.

Such is the major Canadian problem of to-day. It is one, let it be repeated and emphasized, that vitally affects every citizen. It is the problem; what are they going to do about it?

We submit that the citizen who is employed, or has an income, or some reserves, should pay his taxes uncomplainingly, willingly and promptly and thus assist his country in a time of great difficulty. More, he should make every effort to provide a little work, no matter how small or temporary the job may be, for some one out of work, and thus relieve the pressure.

We submit further that persons on relief should be reasonable in their demands, should endeavor to get along with as little as possible, rather than demand more. And they should show their manhood and self-respect by willingly, and at the same time, rendering such service in return to their fellow citizens as it may be in their power to render.

This is no time to "rock the boat," and any person who seeks to do so is not a true Canadian, but has an ulterior motive to serve, and may well be described as an enemy of the country.

Cares For Indian Wards

Recent Incident Shows Canada Is Not Neglecting Them
Canada's paternalistic care of her Indian wards was shown recently when an heroic and successful day search in the dense, snow-covered northern bush of Ontario for Joseph Mann, an ailing Red man and his squaw, was revealed. Both suffering from a severe attack of influenza, the couple were taken to Timmins for treatment.

It was the kindly Rev. Canon George Frewer of Sudbury, famous Anglican missionary to the Indians, who directed the gruelling search by dog team and airplane over an area of 400 square miles. The Dominion government paid all expenses.

To Abolish Noise

"Silent" House Will Be Shown At London Exhibition

London is to have a "house of hush," a house so quiet that in it a person may be able to hear the proverbial pin drop. There is to be a "silence" exhibition in June at which it will be possible to see—but not to hear—the following:

A silent house, with silent lift and silent locks, sound-proof ventilating windows, sound-proof doors; alienated motorcycles; a noiseless motorcar; silent vacuum cleaners; silent road drills; a silent factory room.

The exhibition, at the Science Museum, South Kensington, will be organized by the Anti-Noise League, of which Lord Horder is president.

HER ARMS AND LEGS IMMOVABLE

Ten Years With Rheumatism

To this woman it must have been like commencing to live a new life, when she began to use her arms and legs again, after they had been helpless for ten years.

"I suffered with rheumatism," she writes, "and had been bedridden since 1920. I could not move arms or legs, and had to be fed like a child. Everybody thought I must be an invalid all my life. I forced myself to fight against it, and tried a number of different things. It was Kruschen that eventually saved me, and to-day I consider it is saving my life. My condition has greatly improved, and my limbs are gradually becoming more supple. Already I can eat without assistance, and dress myself, which I had not done for ten years."—M. H.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are the most effective solvents of uric acid known to medicine. They swiftly dull the sharp edges of the painful crystals, then convert them into a harmless solution. Other ingredients of these Salts have a stimulating effect upon the kidneys, and assist them to expel the dissolved uric acid needles through the natural channel.

Germany's Air Force

Hitler Reports It Is Numerically Stronger Than Britain's

The London Daily Mail said Adolf Hitler had informed Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, that Germany already has an air force numerically stronger than Great Britain's. The Daily Mail did not reveal the source of its information but it was known Simon returned from Berlin with documents presented to him by Hitler in which, it is understood, Dr. Fuehrer frankly revealed the extent of Germany's armaments in the air.

The disclosure of Germany's air strength was reported to have caused grave concern to the British cabinet. Ministers held several informal meetings for a preliminary discussion on what is expected to be a "showdown" debate on the entire German situation when Capt. Anthony Eden, lord privy seal, returns from a swing through European capitals.

Gift For King George

Ruler Of Tonga Gives Ancient Turtle With History

King George is to be presented a gift, the hundred-year-old turtle with a history when Queen Salote, the six-foot-three ruler of Tonga, arrives in London. She is now on her way with her son, who attends an English school. In 1774 Captain Cook, famous British navigator, made a forced landing, owing to shortage of provisions, at the Pacific Islands of Tonga. Her reception, to his surprise, was the Friendly Islands, the name by which they have been known ever since. Captain Cook had a turtle, then 160 years old, on board, intended as a present for George III. He gave it as a peace offering to King Tubou, of Tonga. Queen Salote, his descendant, inherited the turtle.

Federal Taxation

Increased Taxation Brings In Large Sum Of Money

Since its inception in 1931 the increased tax on beer has brought $5,658,181 into the Dominion treasury, a return tabled in the House of Commons last. Answering a series of questions on sums accruing to the treasury as a result of increased taxation since the present administration came into office, the return gave these figures:

Increase in newspaper postage, $952,251; one per cent. tax on net premiums received by insurance companies, $2,273,034; automobiles, $537,128; oranges, $4,874,138; canned fruits, $1,083,195; canned vegetables, $283,342; hops, $56,193; seeds, $578,189; cheques, $904,405; telegrams and long distance telephone calls, $2,737,510; railway sleepers, $1,129,017.

Error In Scottish Notes

Many Millions Have To Be Withdrawn From Circulation

Following the detection of an error which had existed in the design in Scottish bank notes for many years, millions of them will be withdrawn from circulation. The Bank of Scotland, the National Bank of Scotland, and the British Linen Bank have been using the royal arms in the design of their notes. The royal arms are the ensigns of public authority, and can only be used by the King or government officials. It was only recently, when a question was raised as to why the Bank of England did not use one or other of the royal arms, that their use on the Scottish notes was challenged. Francis J. Grant, the Lyon King-of-Arms, who investigated the matter, found that the officials were unaware of the regulation.

Total Pension Payments

Secretary Of State Gives Amounts Paid During Year

Amounts paid by the Dominion government for pensions during the last fiscal year, according to an answer tabled in the House of Commons by Secretary of State C. H. Cahan, were:

Old age pensions, $12,313,594; Soldiers' pensions, $41,839,830; civil servants' pensions, $3,612,932; judges' pensions, $276,830; and "all other" pensions, $257,322.

The reply was made in answer to H. E. Spencer (U.F.A., Battle River).

A Native Of Asia

The parsnip that is used here is a native of Asia and Europe. We have what are called Wild Parsnips in Canada, but they are poisonous. The parsnip differs from carrots and all other vegetables in being greatly improved in taste by being left in the ground all winter in the field in which it is grown. The winter's frost seems to give it relish. But it will not keep long after being dug. It is a splendid vegetable for fattening sheep and oxen—it gives to mutton and to beef a superior flavour. The last half of March and the first ten days of April are the best for spring parsnips.

Out-Doing Jules Verne

English Winter Forecasts Passenger Rocket Doing 14,000 M.P.H.

Jules Verne, who thrilled a former generation by flights of fancy into the future, and even H. G. Wells, with his tales of the planets, are outdone by Charles G. Philip in a book about the "Stratosphere and Rocket Flight," just published.

He prophesies as of "not far distant date" passenger rocket airplanes capable of doing 14,000 miles per hour and of crossing the Atlantic eventually, in even faster planes, in 30 seconds.

Passengers, it appears, will be reasonably comfortable. They will lie down hermetically sealed in hammocks. Special measures are taken to counteract trouble with breathing, for the machine is out of sight of the ground in 30 seconds and passenger's bodies become heavier than lead.

When the rocket plane approaches its destination, retarding rockets check its heading drive. Mr. Philip's description of the flight makes one itch to take a ticket—for one's most detested neighbor.

Mr. Philip tells us that plans of the first passenger carrying rocket yet devised have been acquired by the German War Ministry. A 24-foot projectile, built after these plans, carried a passenger six miles into the air, two years ago, and landed him safely after 10 1/2 minutes.

Other wonders predicted by Mr. Philip are an artillery shell, with a 500-mile range, directed by radio; and bomber planes cruising 30 miles above the earth and sweeping towards their targets at 3,000 miles per hour.

Long Distance Record

Telephone Call From Limer Covered Distance Of 17,887 Miles

Sir Julian Cahn, noted British cricket captain who took a British cruise to the United States and Canada 18 months ago, holds the world's record for long distance telephoning. Sir Julian's record, said wireless telephone operators of the Canadian Pacific Line Empress of Britain when the world cruise ship arrived at Hong Kong last week, was made two weeks before when the ship was at sea between Singapore, Straits Settlements, and Bangkok.

Atmospheres prevented the reception of a call from the Empress of Britain to Nottingham, England, by the London receiving terminal. But the call was successfully completed by routing it direct from the ship to San Francisco, overland from there to New York, and by beam wireless to England.

At the time Sir Julian talked he was seven hours ahead of London time. The San Francisco coast station was nine hours behind London and New York, of course, three hours ahead of the Pacific station. Rough computation shows a distance of 17,887 miles for the conversation between the Empress of Britain and London off which 9,275 miles was a direct connection between the ship and San Francisco. Direct, the voice would have travelled only 7,950 miles.

Somewhere in Sweden or Denmark the "voice" of Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale is believed to lie forgotten. Possibly it is in an attic or a storeroom. The famous singer, it has been revealed, made records in Paris in 1887, shortly after the first photograph was put on the market. The records were of the old cylinder type. After Jenny Lind's death, it is believed, they were sent either to Stockholm or Copenhagen. A Swedish newspaper is appealing to its readers to search their attics, old trunks and boxes in case they may possess the precious records without knowing it.

PLANNING FOR A DOMINION WIDE HOUSING PROGRAM

Ottawa.—A far-reaching scheme to start house building activity and thereby absorb many of the unemployed in Canada was laid before the common committee on housing by Dr. W. C. Clark, deputy minister of finance. It provided for a national housing board, with headquarters in Ottawa and local housing boards throughout the country.

By the proposals which the deputy minister submitted, a $50,000,000 building scheme could be started; he said, with contribution of $10,000,000 from the federal treasury. The Dominion would provide a part of what is termed the junior money for the building campaign.

The scheme and the announcement of the mortgage companies that they had over $25,000,000 were anxious to get out on new construction in Canada were highlights of the meeting of the committee. Representatives of the mortgage companies gave a review of the loaning situation throughout Canada. They had withdrawn from lending in the province of Alberta, they said, because of prior liens the Alberta government had put into effect in that province.

Dr. Clark's plan would provide sufficient money to a person owning a lot clear of incumbrance to erect a suitable house on it. The money would be supplied by local housing boards and the inspection and appraising of the building would be done by the insurance and mortgage companies who would have the first mortgage on the property.

A local housing board would finance a building project in the case of homes for owners for say $1,000, 000 as follows:

First mortgage debentures to mortgage and insurance companies, $450, 000.

Preferred stock to be purchased by the central housing board out of federal money, $200,000.

Common stock to be purchased by municipal, provincial, charitable bodies, public-spirited citizens and contracting interests, $150,000.

Assuming the sites were worth 10 per cent. of the cost of the buildings constructed on them, the total value of the properties would be $1,100,000.

The mortgage companies would be advancing 60 per cent. of that total which is the amount required by statute. An alternative suggestion by Dr. Clark was that mortgage companies advance 80 per cent. and the Dominion government guarantee the top 20 per cent. The process might be simpler. In the case of houses for rental, the mortgages would be less.

It was emphasized there is abundance for first-mortgage money, that is the 60 per cent. of the appraised value of property. The scarcity is the junior money, the remaining 40 per cent.

First Silver Dollar Minted

Canadian Coin Will Be Sent To King George

Ottawa.—Canada's first silver dollar was minted April 4 by Finance Minister Edgar N. Rhodes and carefully preserved for transmission to King George whose 25 years of reign it commemorates.

In the presence of J. H. Campbell, master of the royal Canadian mint, and other officials and spectators, Mr. Rhodes lifted the lever on the huge stamping machine and thus was created the beautiful silver piece that is to be known as the "George dollar."

The first issue will be 100,000 and by May 1 they will be in the hands of banks throughout the Dominion for general issue of the public.

Aged Eskimos Dead

Edmonton.—Two oldest Eskimos in all Canada's Arcticland, Alekuk and Appikuk, have died in the past few weeks, a wireless message to the Edmonton Journal from Akivik said. No one knew their ages, but they supposedly were close to, or past, the century mark.

Ireland Would Trade On Equality Basis

Anxious To Deal With Other Countries States Dublin Lord Mayor

Toronto.—Ireland is anxious to trade dollar for dollar with other countries—England not excluded—if she may do so on a basis of equality, Rt. Hon. Alfred Byrne, T.D., lord mayor of Dublin said in addressing a luncheon meeting of the Canadian Club.

Ireland, he said, would welcome any influence which would bring the people from the north and south together voluntarily in a spirit of co-operation. Such an influence might come from an outside country.

"Canada has shown the way," he added, "why should not Ireland do likewise?"

Domestic difficulties in the Irish Free State arose from conditions similar to those in Canada, he said. Youths have left farms derelict for the glamor of the larger cities. They had come to cities and the government was unable to offer them the employment they looked for.

As a remedy for this condition he suggested government stabilization of farm produce prices.

Meeting With Success

Chancellor Asks Nova Scotia Theatres To Close Good Friday

Halifax.—Thirteen theatre managers in Nova Scotia had promised to lock their doors on Good Friday, Rev. Dr. C. F. Curran, chancellor of the Roman Catholic diocese of Halifax, said as he outlined success encountered in the drive to make the day one of religious observance.

Three more managers had announced their intention of opening their theatres only for night shows, and several others were giving the proposal careful consideration.

No question of a boycott on the day was involved, Dr. Curran said. Since the advent of motion pictures, Good Friday gradually had become a holiday instead of a holy day, he said.

Plan Limited Inflation

Sum Involved In United States About Five Hundred Million

Washington.—Inflation, limited but none the less certain, has been revealed as a significant by-product of new United States treasury financing policy.

The government has so much cash in its vaults it intends to pay off a quantity of maturing obligations in currency, thereby adding to the amount of money in circulation and available for new investments.

At the very utmost, $500,000,000 of inflation would be involved.

Jail Term For Stowaways

Halifax.—Two stowaways who got their sailing schedules crossed would end up in jail with 10-day terms ahead of them. Ralph Taylor, 29, of Leithbridge, Alta., and Leo Williams, 36, of Moncton, N.B., had New York as their destination when they boarded the liner, Aurania. But when they came out of hiding three days from Halifax, they found they were on their way to England. They were brought back on the return voyage.

Elevators For Argentine

Buenos Aires.—The Argentine government will spend 10,000,000 pesos ($3,300,000) on the construction of two modern grain elevators in the port of Rosario. The construction of these elevators will mark the beginning of the government's plan to erect a total of 14 terminal grain elevators in the main shipping centres of the country.

Austria Increasing Army

Decides To Follow Example Of Germany For Arms Equality

Vienna.—The Austrian government decided to follow Germany's example in increasing its armed forces.

A 60-word communique, issued shortly after the cabinet met with Premier Kurt Schuschnigg presiding, disclosed steps to achieve that end already have been started.

Under the treaty of St. Germain, Austria's army was limited to 30,000 men, this figure including officers and "depot troops."

The communique asserted Austria's right to arms equality, saying: "The cabinet expressed the unanimous conception that the granting to Austria of full equality was a self-evident supposition."

Whether military conscription such as that re-instituted in Germany in mid-March was contemplated was not revealed.

Military circles, however, lent attention to reports an immediate effort would be made to increase the present army from 30,000 to 60,000 and that such effort would be "accompanied by the gradual elimination of private armies such as the Heimwehr and the Catholic storm troops."

For Direct Relief

Federal Government Loans To B.C. And Saskatchewan

Ottawa.—Loans amounting to $1,250,000 and $1,000,000 for British Columbia and Saskatchewan respectively have been approved by the government, to assist these provinces in taking care of direct relief, according to several orders-in-council tabled in the House of Commons.

Saskatchewan's $1,000,000 is to pay outstanding accounts for relief in the drought areas. In addition Saskatchewan is given some further relief from immediate payment of loans made by the Dominion which matured last month. These totalled $1,629,015. They were extended for another year.

SEE DANGER TO CANADIAN CREDIT IN ONTARIO BILL

London.—Commentators in the Times and the Daily Telegraph saw a danger to the credit of Canada in the Ontario government's bill to invalidate power contracts with four Quebec companies.

The Times said the city felt the basis of credit would be destroyed if contracts authorized by one Ontario government were to be destroyed by another.

If the bill was enacted, said the Daily Telegraph, "a blow will be delivered against the standing of Canadian provincial bonds in this country." It said the Dominion government should act quickly to prevent its credit being thrown upon Canadian securities as a whole.

The Financial Times said it had been suggested in several quarters that the matter be raised in parliament at the earliest possible moment, and J. H. Thomas, Dominion's secretary, urged to take the subject up with Canadian authorities.

"Ontario is reputed to be the richest province in the Dominion. The action she now contemplates threatens the whole basis of credit," said the paper. It added that the clause in the bill prohibiting companies affected from appealing to the courts had aroused the greatest apprehension. It was described as "simply iniquitous."

U.S. Drouth Conditions

Believe Arid Area Is Beginning To Spread Eastward

Washington.—Severe dry conditions which observers noted closely paralleled those marking the beginning of last summer's disastrous drouth were reported in the weekly weather and crop bulletin of the United States weather bureau.

The bureau said the precipitation still was deficient over most of the northern great plains region and that the arid area was beginning to spread eastward. It was recalled that this was what occurred last year.

"Some adjacent sections to the west are becoming dry, notably eastern Kansas, while precipitation was deficient over most of the northern great plain," the report said. It noted the continuation of dust storms in the "severely dry western area."

Kansas is the largest wheat producing state in the United States, most of the crop being grown in the eastern part of that state.

May Grow Soft Wheat

B.C. Is Investigating Varieties And Most Suitable Zones

Winnipeg.—Definite conclusions may be expected next year in the soft wheat investigation now being carried out in British Columbia, it was reported by Dr. L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, at the meeting of the associate committees on grain research of the national research council.

The investigation is being made to determine the varieties and zones best suited for the growing of soft wheat.

Starting Memorial Fund

Australia Follows Plan Of Other Dominions To Mark Jubilee

Canberra, Australia.—Following similar steps in the United Kingdom and other Dominions, the Australian government announced that with His Majesty's approval it was launching an Australian-wide appeal for a memorial fund for the royal jubilee. The fund will be devoted here to combatting maternal mortality. The government is opening the fund with a donation of $50,000 (Australian), equivalent to about $195,000.

Price Of Canadian Flax

Sarnia, Ont.—Increase in the price of Canadian flax was forecast by Howard Fraleigh of Forest, former M.L.A., who was chief flax purchasing agent for the allies during the Great War. Canadian flax is now finding a market in Northern Ireland where it is quoted at 18 to 20 cents a pound when ready for spinning.

Amendment Carried

Senate Rules Limit Of $5,000 On Farm Loans

Ottawa.—By a vote of 13-3, with party lines divided, a maximum of $5,000 was placed on mortgage loans of the Canadian farm loan board under an amendment carried in the senate banking and commerce committee.

Moved by Senator Lendrum McMeas (Cons. Winnipeg), the amendment, in the words of supporters of the change, is to "spread out the fund and make it available to the greatest number."

The repayment period remains at "not in excess of 25 years." An amendment by Senator C. C. Ballantyne (Cons. Montreal) to limit the period to 15 years was defeated, while an amendment of Senator E. S. Little (Lib. London) to make the period 20 years encountered the same fate.

Ethiopia Moves Troops

Government Explains Action Taken To Defend Frontiers

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.—Ethiopia is moving troops to her frontiers, authoritative sources revealed, to meet what her government regards as a threat from Italy's East African forces.

The Ethiopian detachments were said to be moving in large numbers to the Eritrean and Italian Somali land borders.

Government sources were quick to explain the activities were solely for defensive purposes. Described as being organized on a more efficient basis than Ethiopia's tribesmen ever before have been, the troops were under strict orders from Emperor Haile Selassie to avoid contact with Italian border garrisons.

Ethiopia has no intention of undertaking an offensive, it was authoritatively explained.

Fights Blinding Snow Storm

Aviator Makes Hazardous Trip From North With Wounded Men

Winnipeg.—The record of northern aviation has had still another glowing achievement recorded.

Flying through a driving snow storm, Pilot Ted Stull, of Wings, Limited, brought two seriously injured men from God's Lake, 400 miles north of here. Visibility was almost nil, with every other plane in the area grounded.

A flying piece of steel lodged in J. Breckenridge's eye, and it was feared in hospital here he would lose the sight of that optic.

His foot almost severed in an accident while swinging an axe, Emilio Nordstrom was in serious condition.

BUDGET RATIFIED AFTER DEBATE IN HOUSE AT OTTAWA

Ottawa.—Winners in three straight divisions, the Bennett government had its budget ratified by the House of Commons as the climax to the strangest debate in years.

With majorities ranging from 153 to 25, Conservatives had been recommended to the board of grain commissioners that specifications of existing barley grades be studied with the object of determining whether these should be revised or new grades established. Consideration should be given the establishment of export standards, the committee said.

An education campaign to improve methods in threshing matting barley was recommended.

Development of the matting laboratory at the University of Manitoba as a service laboratory for testing new varieties was recommended. Extension of the barley protein survey of the prairie province was suggested.

Then came the main motion, the actual ratification of the budget, which passed 98-74. Eleven Progressives lined up with the Liberals but A. M. Carmichael (Prog. Kinslerley) swung along with the government.

Although it was a short budget debate, it had one unusual feature. Of the 30 speakers, 21 were Conservatives, six were Progressives and three Liberals. Liberals retired to the sidelines after the first day or two although usually opposition speakers hammer away at a government in a constant stream in the budget debate. The Conservatives blocked their own budget by putting up nine speakers.

A NAZI PLEDGE NOT TO START ANOTHER WAR

Berlin.—Official sources said Adolf Hitler would startle the three-power conference at Stresa with an offer to accept Germany's present boundaries for at least 10 years.

The offer, it was said, will be made through Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, who already has Dr. Fuhrer's proposals in black and white.

A typewritten memorandum was given Sir John when he was here 10 days ago.

A Nazi pledge not to go to war, it was said officially, will be in the form of non-aggression pact which Chancellors Hitler offered as a substitute for the proposed eastern Locarno pact.

The offers Hitler, made Sir John contained four things:

1. Non-aggression.
2. Non-interference with internal affairs.
3. Non-assistance of an aggressor.
4. Consultation among the powers in case any trouble should arise.

The pacts would be signed between individual countries but later could be assimilated into a general scheme.

Sir John also will take to Stresa two other Hitler offers, less clearly specified and, it is understood, not detailed on paper:

1. Willingness to sign an arms limitation treaty but with the proviso that Germany be accorded full numerical equality with France or Britain, which latter is stronger on land and in the air.
2. Willingness to sign a Danubian pact which would closely define what non-interference with Austria is. The importance of this is minimized by official belief that a definition to satisfy cannot be found.

House Dissolving In August

Five Years From Return Of 1930 Election Results

Ottawa.—The present House of Commons will dissolve automatically Aug. 18, it was intimated in the House of Commons by Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie. That day will be five years from the return of the writs for the 1930 election.

A series of questions dealing with the duration of parliament were submitted two or three days ago by Liberal Leader Mackenzie King.

The justice minister said he was not prepared to say what day marked the return of the writs in the 1930 election. The invariable practice, however, was to adopt the day stipulated in the proclamation which, in 1930, was August 30.

Later Mr. Guthrie was asked by the Liberal leader if the government would follow the invariable practice. He could not say definitely, Mr. Guthrie said, but in his own opinion, the practice would be followed.

Would Study Barley Grades

Grain Commissioners Receive Recommendation From Research Board

Winnipeg.—The associate committee on grain research of the National Research Council has recommended to the board of grain commissioners that specifications of existing barley grades be studied with the object of determining whether these should be revised or new grades established. Consideration should be given the establishment of export standards, the committee said.

An education campaign to improve methods in threshing matting barley was recommended.

Development of the matting laboratory at the University of Manitoba as a service laboratory for testing new varieties was recommended. Extension of the barley protein survey of the prairie province was suggested.

Restricted To Premiers

Ottawa.—Official invitations to the celebrations of the King's Silver Jubilee in London, May 6, will be restricted to prime ministers of the dominions, Sir George Perley, acting leader of the government, told the House of Commons.

Health Conference

Ottawa.—Approval of the proposed convention of a Dominion-wide conference of health officers at a government object will be to ascertain general conditions of health in Canada, was given by the senate public health and inspection of foods committee.

Sixty-four relief camp strikers, enroute to Vancouver, were taken off a freight train at Nelson and lodged in jail. They will be charged under the railway act with boarding a freight train.

In the face of things that happened last week to make the mayor just a little less popular, it will be interesting to look forward to the result of his second by-law to be submitted to the ratepayers since 1935 came in. No doubt, all who have property interests in Blairmore can figure that they are already paying more taxes than they can afford.

The marriage of Miss Isabel youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duncan, to Lorenzo, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richards, of Coleman, was solemnized on Sunday last by the Rev. A. E. A booster: A minister once said, "I have had many complaints lately about the length of my sermons. Hereafter the collection will be taken and counted before I begin to talk. The smaller the collection, the longer the sermon."

McLean's Magazine has a rub writeup on Blairmore's council, school board and toy boulevard, from the pen of Mrs. Miles, High River. Word from Toronto states that since that silly dedication service, (Rev.) A. E. Smith suffered continually from hicoughs.

Drumheller reports nearly $7,000 business tax arrears. Blairmore's is about $3,500. Drumheller has had the same experience as Blairmore in that because of the imposition of the unjust business tax, very few business people were able to pay their ordinary town and school taxes in full. No creature living can show that the business tax was a wise move for either Blairmore or Drumheller.
